

But first it's time to bow their heads and say a silent prayer, to show that they are thankful for this good time that they share.